APIL RESPONDS TO GOVERNMENT'S ANNOUNCEMENT TO CONSULT ON A FUND OF LAST RESORT

We are delighted to see that these issues are now finally on the Government's agenda, but it is crucial that an Employers' Liability Insurance Bureau has the support of all parliamentary parties.

Injured and dying people have waited too long for this development for it to founder in the party political waters of the Election. An Employers' Liability Insurance Bureau is the only moral solution to a terrible problem, and cross-party commitment to urgent action must be made so more people do not die uncompensated.
